New TURBO filters – perfect filtration

AQUAEL introduces to its offer a new line of TURBO aquarium filters which will replace the filters offered until now under the same name.

FOUR MODELS

The new TURBO filters are constructed on the basis of the new line of circulation pumps AQUAEL CIRCULATOR. Four models of TURBO are available: 500, 1000, 1500 and 2000 (the numbers describe the maximum efficiency of the particular model expressed in l/h). In comparison to their predecessors, they are characterised by a much higher efficiency in relation to their wattage. This is the result of application of the modern, energy-saving motors and high quality gaskets installed under the impeller's chamber, reducing the loss of efficiency to minimum. In addition, they perfectly aerate the water – even at the depths not suitable for other filters.

UNIQUE FILTRATION QUALITY

The biggest advantage of new TURBO filters is their unique filtration quality. Each TURBO filter is equipped with the container suitable for any loose filtration medium and thick foam with the carefully selected properties (ensuring the efficient mechanical filtration and – at the same time – not requiring too often cleaning). The containers are initially filled with ceramic cartridge BIOCERAMAX 600 providing the perfect substrate for nitrifying bacteria removing the ammonia and nitrites from the water. The novelty is the possibility of connecting the containers in series – after purchasing the additional modules, this way the volume of filtration media can be easily enlarged adjusting the filtration efficiency to the needs of bigger (or densely planted) tank. All TURBO filters are equipped with stepless efficiency regulation system of the water current in form of ergonomic knob installed on the filter's output.

EFFICIENT AND SILENT

The new TURBO filters are perfect solution for the filtration and aeration both in small, medium and large tanks. The particularly interesting is the TURBO 2000 model with the efficiency unique on the market, making it suitable even for 300l and bigger aquaria. A well-thought-out construction of the new pumps makes their operation and maintenance very easy and effortless. Thanks to the application of the ceramic pivot of the impeller, their operation is quiet and long-lasting, providing the aquarist with the full comfort of usage.

- exceptionally high output
- particularly efficient water aeration
- quiet and energy saving
- efficient mechanical filtration
- two-stage biological filtration
- stepless and convenient output adjustment
- ideal also for large tanks
